An Ohio State News Publication

Tuesday, November 14

Good day, Buckeye families! Below you will find the latest news and information for Ohio State students and families.

With Thanksgiving Break approaching (Nov. 22-24), if your student is planning to remain on campus during the break, please make sure that they are aware of the adjusted hours of operation for campus dining locations. You can find these updated hours on the Dining Services website. Additionally, students, faculty and staff who are unable to return home for the holiday are invited to attend Ohio State's annual Thanksgiving Dinner on Wednesday, November 22 at noon. Tickets are free but are required to attend. For more information about where to obtain free tickets, please visit the Office of International Affairs website.

Finally, if your student is planning to depart campus for the holiday break next week and will need transportation to the airport, encourage them to check out the free academic break airport shuttle provided by the Campus Area Bus Service (CABS) and Undergraduate Student Government (USG)! More details can be found under the Getting Around Campus section of this newsletter.

Have a great week!

Message from Student Life

As Men's Mental Health Month continues throughout November, we find that a significant disparity exists among males and health in the U.S., including mental health. For example, in the U.S., about 80% of people who die by suicide are male, at a rate that is 4x higher than females. Although 80% of males have experienced stress in the last six months, 65% of men said they are hesitant to seek professional help for mental health concerns such as stress, anxiety and depression.

New and improved Registrar website coming

On Nov. 16, the University Registrar’s website will have a whole new look and feel with improved usability and navigation. Still the official go-to source for information about student records, course data and other important academic information, the new registrar.osu.edu has been completely redesigned to be device friendly and intuitive to use. Improvements to the site include robust search functionality, intuitive navigation and a filterable academic calendar. The site also maintains historic information — including course catalogs, tuition and fee tables, and commencement programs.

Safety Spotlight

Off-Campus Community Crime Map

The Community Crime Map consists of statistics from the Columbus Division of Police (CPD) and shows off-campus crime reports. Ohio State has pre-programmed the map to a one-mile radius to include the crime reports from the most recent 7-day period. The default crime categories are predetermined by LexisNexis. Users also can set up customized email alerts. Stay informed of crime reports in your student's neighborhood by visiting the Community Crime Map.

Secure your valuables before traveling for break

Before you travel for break, be sure to take items of value home, including money, credit cards and IDs. Record serial numbers of your devices. Lock all doors and windows. Students can obtain free safety devices for their homes, including window and door alarms as well as light timers. Disconnect electrical extensions. If something is missing when you return, alert the police immediately. Additional safety resources are available on the Department of Public Safety website.

Intuitive Eating During the Holidays

The holidays can be a fun, celebratory time of year and can also be a source of stress and guilt if we have a negative relationship with food and our bodies (and/or others around us do too). Students can join the Student Life Student Wellness Center for a virtual presentation on Nov. 20, 2-3 p.m., to explore how to integrate the 10 principles of Intuitive Eating during the holidays to find more peace and joy with food.

What makes a superfood so super?

Though many foods could be described as super, it's important to understand that no single food holds the key to good health or disease prevention. Because we only need so many calories daily, the more nutrients we can pack into those calories, the better.

Trail reroute continues, Northwest Stadium parking closes

The Olentangy Trail detour, previously anticipated to open at the end of November, will remain in place through summer 2024 to support continued levee work as part of the Cannon Drive Relocation – Phase 2 project. In January 2024, the northwest stadium parking lot will close through summer 2024. Travel delays in the area are anticipated at that time as motorists adjust to new parking locations. Cannon Drive north of Herrick Drive remains closed.
